

Works by Simon Raab in the Kunstverein

Mannheim. Simon Raab is one of those artists who have abandoned traditional structures, in order to turn the wheel of art just a little bit further. In his works, sculptural forms and traditional painting are brought together. Raab also works with abstract or objectless image structures. He shows things of the figurative world and different everyday experiences with very personal structures, be they of a familiar nature, determined by social conventions or simply side effects of the age. His works will be exhibited under the title "Simon Raab – From Behind The Bars" at the Mannheimer Kunstverein (Augustaanlage 58) from 17 April until 22 May. (Tue to Sun 12 noon – 5 p.m., guided tours, Sun 3 p.m.)
